EMI recording artist Herbert Gronemeyer will soon hit the road with touring partner Tom Cochrane to promote What's All This, his first English language release, in both Canada and Germany.

The Who's Montreal date has been cancelled

Donald K. Donald has announced that The Who concert, scheduled for Montreal's Olympic Stadium, has been cancelled. This ironic turn of event is surprising in view of the "selling out" situation which exists at other stadiums across North America.

It was pointed out that as the tour represents a 25th anniversary celebration for the attraction, all principals felt it would not be in anyone's best interests to play to a small audience and "create inordinate financial commitment."

"It's quite inexplicable to me," says a flabbergasted Donald, "This is the greatest rock and roll band in the world and we're on our way to two sellouts in Vancouver and Toronto . . . but Montreal is historically a unique market, which performs well under most circumstances, but hasn't answered the call for this group."

Donald continues with, "I felt the problem developing after we announced the show and received little phone response. So, to protect fans, I held 5,000 tickets for Toronto's second show, which I'm presently working on, to be transferred onto the

Samantha Taylor leaves CBC-TV's Video Hits

Samantha Taylor, host of CBC-TV's Video Hits and one of Canada's most popular music video show personalities, will be signing off on July 28th. Taylor has been with the show since its inception five years ago.

"This show has been wonderful and I've enjoyed every minute of it," said Taylor, "but five years is a long time.

What I'd like to do now is take a vacation and spend some time with my family . . . then I'll think about what career direction I'll take before I consider other offers."

"Sam and I have talked about this move for some time now," explains Sandra Faire, the creator and executive producer of Video Hits. "It's a big loss for Video Hits and her many fans, but I understand and accept her decision. She's been good for the show and she'll be hard to replace."

The search is now on for a new host.

Ticketron machines."

Montreal fans, who have purchased tickets were able to exchange their tickets at any Ticketron outlet for the Toronto show, or receive a refund at the point of purchase. Donald has also made arrangements for a bus package which will also be available from Ticketron.

In conclusion, Donald says, "I'm devastated by this turn of events, and although everyone will lose money on the exercise, I'm grateful to The Who, their management and to the Stadium officials for their understanding in this matter."

Mitchell scores a first for Rockland launch

A year in the making, Rockland, Kim Mitchell's newest Alert LP will be accorded a rare launch for a release from an independent label. The album will be released, officially, on June 27th, but on the 23rd, the new LP will be the subject of a Westwood One Canada production, This Is Rockland. The radio special is being billed as the "largest syndicated programme of its kind." Airing on over forty stations from coast to coast, the show will begin at 9:30 pm EST, originating from a live launch party at McClell Place Studios in Toronto.

Rockland is Mitchell's first album since Shakin' Like A Human Being, a Juno Award winner, now triple platinum (300,000 units sold) in Canada. Mitchell produced the album which was engineered by Paul Devilliers (Yes, Mr. Mister) and mixed by Brian Foraker (Whitesnake, 38 Special).

Mitchell is now pencilling in an extensive national tour, set to begin this August and to continue throughout the year.

The radio special will also delve into the Mitchell's colourful career as he reminisces about Max Webster, his solo venture and his new record. Those stations interested in securing This Is Rockland should contact Roger Pierce at Westwood One Canada, 416-597-8529.

The Alert label is now distributed in Canada by Capitol Records.

Compact discs decline as major dollar maker

The latest industry statistics from the Canadian Recording Industry Association (CRIA), indicate that compact discs declined slightly in shipments for the Month of March, but were up in year to date shipments.

There were 941,000 CDs shipped during March, a decrease of 4 percent with net value of sales for the month registering $11,744,000, down 6 percent. Year to date figures showed shipments of 2,795,000 CDs, up 34 percent with year to date net value of sales at $34,842,000, up 30 percent.

The cassette configuration was the clear winner for March, shipping 2,378,000, up 13 percent with a dollar value of $14,250,000, an increase of 24 percent. Year to date shipments of cassettes were at 7,271,000, an increase of 13 percent, with net value of sales for year to date showing $42,324,000, a healthy increase of 26 percent.

Both the 7" single and vinyl album were across-the-board losers. The 7" single was

CMPA announces plans for annual song awards

The Canadian Music Publishers Association (CMPA) has announced that it is accepting nominations for their annual Song of the Year Award program. The categories are Rock, Adult (Contemporary/Pop, and Country. The awards are given annually for the highest money earning songs for the previous year.

This will be the fourth year that the CMPA is honouring the top songs and songwriters of the year. To be eligible, entries, by Canadian music publishers only, must be submitted by July 31, 1989. All information is kept strictly confidential by the accounting firm of Clarke Henning & Co.

As well, the CMPA awards two songwriting scholarships annually, each having a cash value of $500.00. Last year the recipients were Phil Main of Fanshawe College, and Pamela Lillard of Trebas Institute.

Entry forms can be obtained from the CMPA office at Suite 320, 56 Wellesley St. West, Toronto. M5S 2S4, or by calling Fran Shaw, Awards Coordinator at 416-367-2070.

The awards will be presented at the annual Celebration of Songwriters' dinner on a date to be announced.

down 14 percent for the month and down 3 percent in net value of sales. For year to date shipments, the 7" was down 25 percent, which registered a 16 percent loss in net value of sales. The shipments for vinyl albums were quite dismal, down 46 percent for the month, a decrease of 39 percent for net value of sales, and down 49 percent in year to date shipments, showing a decrease of 40 percent for net value of sales.

The 12" single rallied somewhat, showing a 10 percent increase in March shipments, which registered as and 18 percent increase for net value of sales. Year to date figures, however, show a 7 percent drop, but a 7 percent increase in net value of sales.

Overall, figures for March show a 4 percent decrease in shipments, but a one percent increase in both net value of sales for March and for year to date shipments. This, however, turned out to register a 15 percent increase in year to date net value of sales.

WHAT SAYS

It's been a tough year . . . ! What with all the luncheon and dinner tributes, seminars and conventions, the well must be running pretty dry, not only for the big guys, but the industry in general. A hundred bucks here, a hundred bucks there, a couple of hundred for something else and so on. But do we have genuine troupers in this business or do we have genuine troupers . . . I ask you? Let me tell you . . . the industry can take a bow. The way they've rallied to the call for Variety's Kids, once again, was really heartwarming. As well, Blue Rodeo, Anita Perras, Mike Francis and J.K. Gully took time out from their busy schedule to provide the first-class entertainment for the Variety Club Luncheon Special Salute To Big Country. And, again, we had to call on Steve Thomson to help organize the sound system and he was there, as always, as were the hardworking people from Variety. (EC: Take a bow gang!)

The other shoe . . . the other foot! I recall a few years ago when a "snotty-nosed" West Coast critic gained a lot of local favour for his constant attacks on Canadian talent, the Juno Awards and the 30 percent Cancon regulations. He took every low shot possible at ridiculing things Canadian . . . unless it was a local band, and there weren't too many. Well . . . guess what? He's taken a giant step into the recording business, the Canadian recording business, if you will. I haven't heard the record yet, but there's plenty of press material (EC: What else!) and all probably written by him. It will be interesting to see what his peers in the writing game think of his debut. Remember what the critics did to Rex Reed when he tried his hand at acting? (EC: What goes around comes around . . . !)

Ronnie Hawkins in People Magazine! Rockers met country and rockabilly veterans at a crossover hoedown recently in Detroit's Silverdome, and Ronnie Hawkins was there, along with fellow rockabilly veteran Carl Perkins. People Magazine was also there and a great "party" story was put together along with good photo coverage. The Hawk is seen in one photo with Perkins and rocker Ray Davies. (EC: Another Last Waltz . . . ?)

If you're horny move to Quebec! The Quebecers really know how to do it. For every new birth, the Quebec government will dish out $4500 to the parent and/or live-in partner. I can see AY making moves to get in on the stash. Who knows . . . maybe this is a move to beef up their stake in the recording industry. (EC: Is it only for Francophones?)

Much More debut for young Toronto model

The Toronto-based Much More label has been encouraged by the impressive A/C programmer acceptance of its newest release, Changing My Life, the debut from Toronto model Deborah Lund. Born in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, Lund became a popular lead vocalist, at the age of nineteen, touring the Maritimes with pop and country bands.

Moving to Toronto in 1986, Lund modelled for various magazines, but her priority was music. She teamed up with well-known songwriter Frank Rondell and his band, which toured the Eastern Seaboard of the U.S., as well as the Canadian club circuit.

Both sides of Lund's single (Broken Dreams on the flip) were written by Rondell. The single was produced by Dan Madison and recorded at the Toronto Recording Workshop. Session people included Madison (on release with his own single, Strangers When We Touch) on keyboards and background vocals, and guitarist Louis Socci, who also provided background vocals.

Lund and Rondell are now planning a promotion tour across Ontario in support of the new single. An album is also in the works.

Anne Murray continues on a roll . . . ! We usually hear these things about stars from other countries . . . but how nice to hear that our own Anne Murray is playing to 97 percent capacity houses on her current tour. That was the tally in Toronto for her five day stay at the O'Keefe . . . and that would probably add up to a pretty healthy box office. I remember a few years ago when a mouthy radio type from Vancouver, who had parlayed his brogue into importance, took on Murray for not only making a lot of money, but being Canadian . . . and making a lot of money. Well, while his star has dimmed, Murray's still continues to shine. (EC: Parlayed his brogue . . . ?)

Pity the Quebec artists! Quebec artists sell phenomenally well in Quebec . . . so well, that English Canadian sales pale in comparison. But, what happens outside of Quebec? Not very much, and there's a move underway to make an attempt to capture that very lucrative English-language market. Watch for government handouts for cross-Canada tours by Quebec artists. Apparently, funds will be made available to whoever comes knocking first . . . but the language must be French! (EC: You gotta be kidding!)

Etheridge tours with Cash for Island bonanza

Melissa Etheridge, who recently scored double platinum for her Island debut, will tour Canada with labelmate Andrew Cash as support guest. Island has just released Boomtown, Cash's second LP for the label.

The tour will also herald Etheridge's new LP, which will be released in the fall.

The Etheridge/Cash tour begins June 12th at Victoria's Royal Theatre, followed by Vancouver's Queen Elizabeth Theatre (13), Edmonton's Convention Centre (16), the Jack Singer Auditorium in Calgary (17), Regina's Centre of The Arts (19) and the Concert Hall in Winnipeg (20), which completes the Western leg of the tour.

The first Ontario date will be London's Centennial Hall (June 22), with Etheridge going solo at the Mariposa Festival in Barrie (24). Cash resumes as opener for the rest of the tour which includes Ottawa's Congress Centre (25), the St. Denis Theatre in Montreal for two dates (26 & 27), Quebec City's Agora (29), and back to Montreal's St. Denis Theatre for the final date of June 30th.

COVER STORY - by Chris Murray

Herbert Gronemeyer now free from censorship

An English translation of mostly previously released German material, What's All This, Herbert Gronemeyer's fourth EMI album, is not a commonplace project. Appropriately, neither are his plans for a follow-up live tour. Gronemeyer will be teaming up with veteran Canadian star Tom Cochrane for an innovative flip-flop tour of their respective homelands. On the Canadian leg, Gronemeyer will be the opening act, while in Germany, where having a support act is in itself a novelty, Capitol's most prized Canadian signing, Cochrane, will open for the top-billed Gronemeyer.

After the triple platinum success in Germany of Gronemeyer's first album, EMI approached him with the request that he deliver an English version for worldwide distribution. Refusing to merely translate the package, Gronemeyer did, however, begin seeking out a partner "to transport the spirit and the sense, rather than to only translate it, and to make it singable too." His first choice, Peter Gabriel, who had recorded a German album, did not have time to assist in this endeavour, but recommended Peter Hammill, best known for his work with Van der Graaf Generator. Over the last five years, the two have carefully translated thirty songs in an effort "to create an album on its own", instead of a best-of package.

Gronemeyer attributes much of his success to radio, which he ranks second to television as a promotional tool in Germany. This, despite the fact that German radio has no government imposed language legislation, a situation of which he approves. "I don't believe in that . . . I think it's the wrong way," he asserts. "On one hand it helps the bands to go on writing in German, but, on the other hand, it gets boring because if there's not enough good music around, you still have to play the other stuff because you have to fill your percentage."

Unlike North America's strongly formatted radio, German radio plays all styles of music, tending toward block programming, and freely mixes English and German language songs. "The people in radio like to play German songs, but there aren't that many around," he points out. "People write less and less in German and more and more in English," to the degree that, according to Gronemeyer, two years ago the charts were 40 percent German while today the figure is closer to 10 percent.

Although releasing in his native tongue has not proven a stumbling block, the political nature of some of his material has caused some headaches. With the '90s rapidly approaching, it is startling to realize that censorship of ideas remains a problem, one that is worsening in Germany. "The control system is East Germany . . . they know everything about you and they censor everything. If you just open your mouth, they throw you out or they throw you in prison at once," says Gronemeyer, continuing with, "There's not any movement coming up in East Germany to say critical things. It's impossible. And the same thing's coming up in West Germany," he warns. "They're starting up the same censorship on everything, on radio, but very slowly."

"On my last German album I had a song about the reigning party, because on the album before they tried to censor two songs which had been about them as well. Then I wrote another song about how they tried to censor me," he relates.

At his current high profile status, the government no longer attempts to censor his work, but, as Gronemeyer suggests, this may be more by design than by necessity. "They don't touch me any more because I'm so Let's hear it for The Backsell Issue!

It's finally got to the point where I had to write a letter to get this off my chest. Yes, The Backsell Issue.

As far as I'm concerned, there isn't an issue here. In my opinion it is a broadcaster's obligation to back announce the songs played. Simply put, never mind the record companies . . . backselling is a service to our listeners. By not backselling records, you are ignoring a need of the listener.

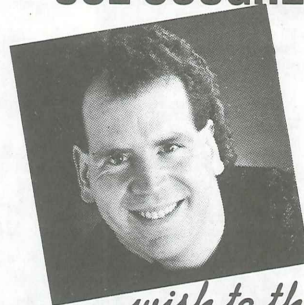

Last check . . . I got into this business to please listeners . . . not turn 'em off.

Every record played on this station is backsold, and has been and will be policy at any station I program.

popular, and they show everybody, 'We don't touch Herbert Gronemeyer . . . you see how liberal we are', but they go after other people, and they always have an alibi. They say 'No, you can't tell us we're not a liberal party, because we let Herbert Gronemeyer sing his song.' The politicians handle artists," he affirms. "You have to be aware that they are even cleverer than we are."

With an album containing songs already proven successful, an album that took five years to fine tune, the belief and support of his record company, and an upcoming tour with one of Canada's premier acts, it is hard to think of an obstacle that would prevent Herbert Gronemeyer from attaining admirable success in this country. Yet, as always, it is winning the heart of the consumer public that is the final piece of the music industry jigsaw.

C-FAX contest blows phone lines

A four-week search by C-FAX listeners for a set of keys to open a safety deposit box containing 5,000 one dollar bills, finished with a flourish as thousands of calls jammed the station's phone lines. "We had been taking five calls a day," explains C-FAX Program Director Terry Spence, "and listeners had narrowed the search to a parking garage in the downtown area, so we decided to open the phones during Barry Bowman's morning show and keep taking calls until someone won the $5,000." The phone company estimated that 10,000 people dialed the station number at once, virtually knocking out service in the whole city. It was also pretty frantic at the parking garage where security guards found people looking at all hours of the day and night for places where a set of keys might be hidden. Because of the risk of damage by over-enthusiastic searchers, the actual keys were not placed in the secret hiding place. Instead, listeners gave their guesses to a fictitious C-FAX Private Eye, Mike Cash, who confirmed each new clue. Not even C-FAX on-air personalities were let in on the secret, so they could speculate freely about where the keys were hidden.

CITI FM launches Basement Tapes

92 CITI-FM Winnipeg is currently running with Basement Tapes, a one hour special heard Mondays at 9 pm and repeated following Sundays at 7 pm. The special allows local and regional rock 'n' roll bands the opportunity to have their demo tapes played on-air, as well as an informal interview with host Shadoe Davis. The show is pre-recorded which allows for very flexible interview scheduling. Local rock 'n' roll musicians interested in having their demo tape aired or those interested in this type of promotion, call Shadoe Davis or Rose Winters at 204-786-6181.

Charlebois firmed for Argos play-by-play

Marc Charlebois has been chosen to be the play-by-play broadcaster of the Toronto Argos for the 1989 CFL season. The announcement was made by Jim Waters, Vice President and General Manager of 1050 CHUM. Charlebois has been the play-by-play announcer for both the Ottawa Rough Riders and the Montreal Alouettes and was also the Sports Director of CKOY Radio in Ottawa. Says Waters, "We have a new stadium, the Argos have a new owner, and CHUM, being the radio voice of the Argos, we felt that a new play-by-play announcer would fit with our goals and I'm delighted to have a broadcaster with Marc's credentials on our team." The appointment of a colour commentator will be announced shortly. All games, Dome and away will be heard on CHUM.

C-FAX chosen Library's Official Radio Station

C-FAX Radio teamed up with the Greater Victoria Public Library for a unique promotion recently. "The printed word and the spoken word are working together very well in Victoria," reports C-FAX Program Director Terry Spence.

C-FAX was selected to be the Official Radio Station for the library's 100th anniversary this year. Chief Librarian Lee Teel and Spence created a campaign to give the library extensive publicity and expose the C-FAX call letters to thousands of library users.

"We had the library staff write brief reviews of their 100 favourite books," continues Spence, "which we broadcast in a 100-day countdown leading to the main centennial celebration." As well, there was a

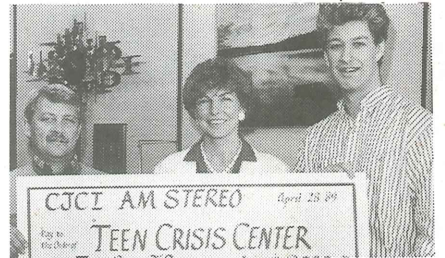

CHRO completes talent line-up changes

1350 CHRO Pembroke, Ontario recently completed the station's talent lineup changes and Program Director Scott Jackson is confident he has "found a winning formula for The Valley's Radio Station." Jon Blair remains in morning drive from 5:30 to 10 am and Scott Jackson stays in the midday slot from 10 am to 1 pm. Jay Hunter moves up to afternoon drive from 1 to 6 pm, while Rob Webster, from FOX FM (CFOX) in Sarnia, joins the staff to handle promotions, evenings and weekend mornings. Jane Douglas from CHXL-FM Brockville, handles music, evenings and weekend afternoons. Weekends are looked after by Pat Lynch and Matt Kettner. Dann Kirkness handles production.

CJCI comes to aid of Teen Crisis Board

CJCI/620 AM Stereo, "Prince George's Radio Station", recently staged a very successful spontaneous, live on-air fundraiser for the local Teen Crisis Line. As the station's Bill Russell explains, "The day prior to the event, the Teen Crisis Board announced that it needed at least $8,000 core funding or it would be shutting its doors."

Russell goes on to explain, "Prince George has an unacceptably high teen suicide rate and the Teen Line is one of the few services that tries to address this tragic situation."

CJCI's listeners came through big, pledging nearly $10,000 during Wayne Pedersen's Breakfast Club morning show. Russell is happy to announce that to date, "the trust fund sits at over $14,000 cash." He concludes with, "A perfect example of how local radio, addressing local issues, can still stir its listeners' emotions . . . perhaps unlike any other medium."

Stump The Librarian feature on the station's talk shows, where listeners won books for posing questions that were answered on-air by the library's reference department.

Several books were given away in a Lucky Library Card contest, and the campaign was topped off with a two-hour talk show, live, from the main branch of the library.

Many of the titles featured in the 100 Best Books series have been in great demand since the broadcast and "perhaps even more important," says Spence, "the library's role in the community has been given the recognition it deserves." For more information on this type of promotion call Spence at 604-386-1070.

Country Hall of Fame gets permanent home

The Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame will have a permanent home at Sportsworld, Waterloo, Ontario's new theme park. The Hall of Fame will be a national attraction that will house approximately thirty exhibits of legendary country music artists of Canada and will also pay tribute to the impact these artists had on Canada's country music scene. A temporary exhibit will open at Sportsworld on June 10th of this year and this building will be used until a permanent home is erected

McLauchlan to host CBC and Glen Warren series

Capitol recording artist Murray McLauchlan has the rare opportunity to host a CBC radio series, Swinging On A Star, and three one-hour television specials for Glen-Warren Productions, a division of Baton Broadcasting.

The CBC series, appropriately named after his debut LP for Capitol, consists of forty segments to air in September on the CBC Radio Network. His first three guests will be Tom Cochrane, Lori Yates and Willie P. Bennett.

His specials for Glen-Warren will begin this month. An airdate has yet to be determined, at which time his lineup of special guests will be announced.

Murray has just completed the first video for his Swinging On A Star album, for the Love With A Capitol "L" track, the second single from the album, which moves into the No. 41 position this week on the RPM Country 100. This single will be his first from the album for a U.S. release with the album to follow.

Murray's spring appearance schedule took him to the Maritimes and Saskatchewan and he will be lending his support once again to the Children's Miracle Network Telethon. The Telethon airs live from CFTO-TV's studios in Toronto on June 3.

on site. Construction of the permanent building is planned for the fall of this year.

A highlight of the opening season will be the induction of the first twenty-five members of the Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame. They will be honoured at a special televised ceremony planned for Kitchener's Centre In The Square, the date to be announced shortly.

The administrator and driving force behind the project is Gary Buck, a Kitchener-Waterloo resident and well-known country performer and recording artist. A recipient of five Juno Awards, Buck brings twenty-five years of experience in the international country music scene to his endeavour.

Buck discontinues action against CCMA

Gary Buck, President of the Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame, reports that legal action for use of "a conflicting and confusing name" against the Canadian Country Music Association, has been "discontinued."

As Buck explains, "The best interests and the unity of the Canadian country music industry were the prime considerations that prompted this decision." He continues with, "No statement of defence was filed by the CCMA, and the Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame hopes that discontinuing the statement of Claim at this time will allow the CCMA and its current Board of Directors a chance to re-evaluate their position without the pressure of a law suit."

Buck cautions, however, that "This does not in any way alter the legal position of the Canadian Country Music Hall of Fame or its right to take any legal steps available and/or commence an action at a future date to defend against any project or exhibit that is being passed off as a Hall of Fame." Buck can be reached at 519-653-4399.

CFQM goes live from Moncton's Urban Corral

Live From The Urban Corral, a CFQM Moncton presentation, is now available on the Seltech Satellite Network. This one hour weekly program features the best in country music and is broadcast from Moncton's popular Urban Corral.

It should also be pointed out that this program also qualifies as foreground format for FM stations.

Some of the shows aired since the April launch include Debbie Myers, Gene Watson, Sweet Temptation, The Kendalls and Hal Bruce. As the show's producer, Brad Donnelly, points out, "We're offering a program that fits all country formats. We've taken a good idea and improved on it... and there is no program that can match the talent and quality of Live From The Urban Corral." For more information contact Seltech in Toronto at 416-597-2299.

CBS Records/Nashville targeting college market

The Nashville office of CBS Records has taken a bead on the college and alternative radio market with the launch of their newly-formed College/Alternative Marketing Department. In a bid to penetrate this lucrative market, the Nashville operation has released a sampler LP, appropriately titled Hitchhiker - Volume One. The sampler is for promotional use only and is directed at College Radio. As Allen Brown, Director, Media & Artist Development of the Nashville office, points out, "This sampler contains music representing the type of artists and sounds that CBS Records/Nashville is promoting to the college and youth market."

Included on the Hitchhiker release are tracks by Lori Yates, George Jones, Rosanne Cash, The O'Kanes, Mary Chapin Carpenter, Darden Smith, Rodney Crowell and George Jones.
