Guns N' Roses ships near half-million

It's taken over four years for Guns N' Roses to follow up their multi-platinum debut Appetite For Destruction. But apparently the wait has been worth it as G N'R have over 220,000 orders each from retail outlets for their Use Your Illusion and Use Your Illusion II releases.

MCA's vice-president of marketing, Steve Tennant, was understandably ecstatic about the retailer's enthusiasm and called the two albums "equally amazing."

Long known as the most volatile, unpredictable group in rock, the Gunners decision to release two albums simultaneously defies conventional industry wisdom, but who can argue with success?

To further defy convention G N'R's Use Your Illusion I and Use Your Illusion II will be available in double album vinyl form along with single cassette and CD.

The first single off Illusion I is Don't Cry, a power ballad that will also be on Illusion II with different lyrics.

Hoskins' Labelling Blues wins Bronze Media Award

Labelling Blues, a video by Gregory Hoskins and the Stickpeople, has won the Bronze Media Award, Entertainment/Television from the Canadian Association for Community Living (CACL).

Ronald E. Smith, President of CACL, explains that the annual Media Award honours programs, articles and personalities "who have made outstanding efforts to promote the participation of people who have an intellectual disability in their communities."

The song, from Moon Come Up, Hoskins' debut for the label, recounts the real life experience of Pat Worth who was mistakenly labelled retarded and spent nine years in an institution. The judges were impressed with the "good use of poetry, rhythm and images" of the Labelling Blues video.

The video was directed by Ian French for Northern Lights Productions.

The award will be presented at the closing banquet of the annual national conference of CACL which will be held at the Ottawa Congress Centre on Oct. 5.

Allas platinum to YTV's Rock 'N Talk (l to r) Capitol's Liz McElheran, Freddie Curchi, Rock 'N Talk host Laurie Hibberd, Steve DeMarchi and Rock 'N Talk music coordinator Fran Walsh.

There is no intended difference in direction or approach between the two albums with one cover song on each album, McCartney's Live and Let Die on Illusion I and Dylan's Knockin' on Heaven's Door on Illusion II.

In between all the drug rehabs, law suits, arrests, sacking and replacing their drummer, internal fights and chaos, it's a minor miracle that G N'R is still intact. But intact they are and it will be interesting to see how the public and industry responds to their unique approach to rock and roll.

Hamilton area station launches dance format

Burlington, Ontario's FM 108 (CING), is the first station in the much-watched and listened to Golden Horseshoe, to introduce a Monday to Friday 24-hour dance music format.

With the CRTC easing rules regarding format changes, it was expected that a major Toronto station would make the first move, which makes the FM 108 format change somewhat ironic. The station's listening area does cover the Toronto and Hamilton market adequately, not to mention Buffalo, and could take up the slack caused when Buffalo's MAGIC 102 dropped its dance format.

It's expected that as well as dance, the new format will also lend itself to R&B, hip-hop, funk, rap and reggae. Expanding the dance format to weekends is apparently in the works.

Kathleen - Quebec artist debuts on Sony Music

Kathleen is a new artist signed to Sony Music who has had a hit single in Quebec called Ou Aller. The 25-year-old blond chanteuse's video for the song has enjoyed heavy rotation on Musique Plus and medium rotation on MuchMusic.

Kathleen's album was written and produced by Quebec's hit-maker, Jean Pierre Isaac, who launched the careers of such artists as Mitsou and Les B.B.

Quality positioning for return to front-line action

Paul Popeski, Vice President of the Winnipeg-based R-Tek Corporation, has indicated that Quality Records is "now poised to re-enter the front-line business." R-Tek purchased Quality Special Products from Selkirk Communications in 1986.

Quality Records was among the first independent record labels in Canada, and as the country's foremost independent label, distributed product by some of the big names of the sixties and seventies, including Ronnie Hawkins, The Stampeders, The Guess Who and many others.

Re-entering the front-line business won't be a major undertaking at this time, "The company plans to gradually develop its Canadian front-line label," Popeski reveals, "releasing only one or two projects a year." A major signing is expected to be announced over the next few weeks.

Streisand box set to ship Sept. 23rd

Sony Music is releasing Barbra Streisand Just For The Record, a four CD or four cassette, cloth bound box set with an 88 page color booklet filled with unpublished photos and a song by song commentary by Streisand.

Sony Music Canada's marketing manager, Ron Camilleri, said that the set offers a complete retrospective of Streisand's career, from her first demo at the age of 13 to a song from her upcoming album Back to Broadway.

"It's unique in that 67 of the 94 selections have never been released. Most box sets are just greatest hits repackaged but the majority of the cuts have never been released and we expect a large demand," Camilleri said.

The release date for Just For The Record is September 23rd.

Standard Radio bids for two Calgary stations

Gary Slight, President of Standard Radio and Ronald W. Osborne, President and CEO of Maclean Hunter Limited, have jointly announced that "agreement in principle has been reached," for the sale of Maclean Hunter Limited's wholly-owned subsidiary, CFCN Communications Inc., of its Calgary radio stations, CFCN (AM-106) and CJAY-FM, to Standard Broadcasting. The sale is subject to CRTC approval.

Standard Broadcasting Corporation, a major radio broadcaster in Central Canada, would like to expand into Western Canada. Maclean Hunter's core radio operations are located in Ontario and the Maritimes.

An application is expected to be filed with the CRTC over the next few weeks with an anticipated hearing early next year.

Spirit Of The West set for Toronto date

Stony Plain's Spirit Of The West, will play Toronto's Concert Hall on Oct. 11. The date is being promoted by CPI and Molson Canadian Rocks in association with Coca Cola Classic. The Fat Lady Sings has been slotted as the opening act.

Spirit made their debut on Stony Plain in 1986 with Tripping Up The Stairs. However, it wasn't until 1990 when they broke into prominence, due in part to being offered a support slot on Wonder Stuff's UK tour. A Juno nomination followed.

This year Spirit won COCA's Entertainer of the Year award, and, with the release of their new album, Go Figure, they are off on a 20-date Canadian tour. Their album is now charting on the RPM 100.

The band comprises John Mann (vocals, guitars), Geoffrey Kelly (flute, guitar, vocals), Linda McRae (bass, accordion, vocals), Hugh McMillan (mandolin, bass, chapman stick, vocals), and Vince Ditrich (drums, percussion, vocals).

Spirit is distributed by Warner Music Canada.

BMG batting 1000 on Cancon US releases

BMG Music Canada currently boasts a 100% release pattern in the US for their Canadian recording acts. However, as Bob Jamieson, president of the Canadian operation points out, there was a heavy concentration on domestic product prior to his taking over.

"Projects were coming together at the time of my arrival that we felt comfortable to release," he explains. "We went back in to re-work some others."

Cancon acts that have been released in the US are Crash Test Dummies (Arista), The Jeff Healey Band (a BMG/Arista split), Cowboy Junkies (RCA), Prairie Oyster (RCA Nashville), Big House (RCA), Sheree Jeacocke (RCA). The latest signing, Love & Sas (formerly Oui 3), is expected to be released on either RCA or Arista.

Some projects have been in the works for quite a while that have finally been completed. Jamieson points out that the company hasn't increased its signing levels, "there were projects in the works and David (Bendeth) was holding back because he wasn't confident that they should come out at the time, so he re-finished them . . . now they are ready to come out."

Some parent companies are hesitant to release Cancon records, yet Jamieson feels very encouraged by the interest from the US and other territories. "I think it's the quality of the music," says Jamieson. "It's not a secret . . . the quality of the music is there. Because we've had success with Crash Test Dummies and positive momentum. People in the US are starting to recognize this is the A&R source that it can be and has been over the years."

Jamieson's approach to his American counterparts and other territories borders on being somewhat heavy handed. "Well, you have to shake these people up," he muses. The Americans have so much on their plate and they have so many things going on. Our music is more important to us than it is to them, and we have to be in their face . . . but that's the case with any country, it's not just the United States. You've got to be in the face of everyone of these countries in order to keep their eye on the ball. You just have to aggressively promote your music."

"What we have to do is really zero in on trying to make as much noise as we can about our Canadian music overall."

Jamieson stresses however that getting records established in Canada first is necessary, "Because there are very few records that have ever been successful in other markets without home market success." He goes on to stress, "What we have to do is really zero in on trying to make as much noise as we can about our Canadian music overall. It's not just BMG's music, it's everybody's music."

As far as building BMG's artist base, Jamieson credits the artists, "who are making good records, and David Bendeth, who is on a roll right now . . . he's very hot. We have the resources to make records that are worldwide competitive and that's what we're trying to do." He also points to the timing of release as important and the care that goes into production and set-up before release. "I'd rather take the time and make the record very strong with a minimum of three singles, and we look for four or more, before we put the record out."

BMG is the only major with a downtown Toronto base, which Jamieson believes is an asset. "I think being down here and close to the action is important," he confides. "We have artists coming in here quite regularly. We also get people dropping in, so I think the location is certainly positive. But I think it's the whole package. What we're trying to do is represent a very visible and competitive record company and treat the music with the kind of respect it deserves."

Jamieson also stresses that radio is a major factor in breaking Canadian records "in the sense that the Canadian content regulations certainly gives records exposure." He believes the regulations are important "in the near term . . . but I'd like to think that in five years we as an industry would be respected enough that we wouldn't need the regulations."

Video shows are also an asset, says Jamieson. "MuchMusic and MusiquePlus have been very positive in their support of artists. They are far more enjoyable to work with than MTV which is so fragmented and so tight and so regimented that it's very boring."

On the downside, Jamieson points to the concert business in North America in general as being in trouble. "Rod Stewart has done well, Alan Jackson and Randy Travis did well, but," he points to "a lot of shows that have had to be cancelled, or went on with disappointingly small audiences. The concert business is really hurting."

". . . Video, in a kind of left-handed way, may have been a detriment to the concert business . . ."

Jamieson cites too many acts and ticket prices that are too high, going on to point out that "Video, in a kind of left-handed way, may have been a detriment to the concert business. Because the kids, by watching video, can get their fill or get a pretty good impression of the artist without having to go and see them. And some artists just aren't that good on video and the audience sees that. They may like the songs and they may want to buy the record, but I'm not sure they want to see the act for $26.00 or $35.00, because they don't look that cool on video. It's a dimension that the kids have the opportunity to look into today that they didn't have ten years ago."

Taking a look at the industry in general, Jamieson believes there are signs that retail is coming back. "We're encouraged by what we see," he says, "We're not blowing the numbers away, but it's looking better. Certainly with some of the major releases; the Bryan Adams, the Guns N' Roses and records like that coming out, retail will pick up and record buyers will hopefully start going back into the stores. There's going to be a lot of great music coming out over the next three months."

He points out that the tradition of releasing the big hitters in the fall is important. "That's when we make most of our money," he stresses, "the last four months of the year are important. So if you can get it out at this time and into the racks and visible, you have the chance to sell to the largest number of people . . . your dollars go further then."

BMG is also doing more as a company than before, Jamieson admits. The company released its first TV package, Country Heat, and there is now a heavy concentration on catalogue. BMG's Tim Williams and Norman Miller are currently crossing the country on "a catalogue roadshow," says Jamieson, "re-introducing our catalogue. We were just not in the game. But we've done a lot internally to try to re-position it. We're going on the road with a contest and a promotion and a program to re-stimulate and re-introduce our catalogue to show the accounts that we are serious and that there is business for both of us.

"Norecord company can sit around waiting for the next 'big thing'," Jamieson admonishes. "Because, while waiting, a lot of time can go by and a lot of business can be lost. I'd like to see us have a million-selling item like they did here each year for the last four years . . . that makes a big difference in your bottom line. But it's not a way to run a business." He concludes with, "I'd rather have that million seller be the icing on the cake as opposed to the cake."

Zoo's Procol Harum to Toronto's Winter Garden

The venerable sixties and seventies chart busters, Procol Harum, are back with their 1991 look and sound. They are set for a Sept. 23 date at Toronto's Winter Garden Theatre. The band comprises Gary Brooker (keyboards, vocals), Matthew Fisher (organist), Keith Reid (lyricist), Robin Trower (who will not be in the tour lineup), and a new rhythm section made up of former Big Country drummer Mark Brzezicki and bassist Dave Bronze.

The band's debut, The Prodigal Stranger, is released on Zoo records.

Helen Bezkcaczko, who has gained extensive knowledge in the computer industry, has been appointed Production Coordinator. Bezkcaczko holds an Honours B.A. in Economics from York University.

Gregory Homonylo takes on the position of Product Manager. Most recently with H&R Music, Homonylo has an Honours B. Comm. from Queen's University. He is also an accomplished drummer. His responsibilities will include non-traditional marketing.

In making the above announcement, Gillespie indicates that the appointments to the marketing group "reflect Attic's continued growth and underscores our position as Canada's leading independent label."

Sunrise appoints Trace to Director of Marketing

Malcolm and Roy Perlman have jointly announced the appointment of Andrea Trace to the position of Director of Marketing for Sunrise Records & Tapes as well as the Jean Machine and Giggles.

Trace comes to the company with extensive marketing experience, particularly in the music industry. She was trained for marketing and graphic design at the Emily Carr College of Art and Capilano College, both in Vancouver.

Above and beyond her responsibilities at Sunrise, Trace will also be looking after the Perlmans 28 Jean Machine stores and 15 Giggles stores, both of them casual wear clothing chains, which have been operated by the Perlmans since November 1976.

Rush to Cops Coliseum for first Canadian date

Prior to heading into the US for a major tour, Rush will make their North American debut at Cops Coliseum in Hamilton (Oct. 25). Additional dates will be announced later.

The Anthem supergroup just recently released Roll The Bones, the trio's first studio album since 1989 when Presto was released. They did however release Chronicles, a greatest

The new album, co-produced by Rush and Rupert Hine, conservatively shipped gold on release and is now over 60,000 units shipped. The album was the top add on the RPM 100 (Sept. 14/91), entering at No. 18, one of the highest charted Cancon albums in RPM's 27 years of charting.

There was also much critical acclaim for the Rush release Peter Howell, Toronto Star entertainment critic, referred to the album as one that "positively bristles with the excitement of a band that enjoys making music."

Anthem is distributed in Canada by Sony Music.

Carey's First Vision certified gold video

The only music video certified for CRIA's August certifications was Mariah Carey's Columbia release of The First Vision.

The Carey video was certified gold (5,000 units).

Carey's newest video, Emotions, the title track of her latest album, is now enjoying good rotation on MuchMusic.

Columbia's Mariah Carey leads August metal parade

Mariah Carey's self-titled Columbia album was certified quadruple platinum (400,000 units), the top scorer in CRIA's August certifications. Carey's album has remained on the RPM 100 for 58 weeks. Emotions, her newest album, is expected to chart shortly. The title track, taken as a single, has already bulleted up the Singles and Ac charts.

Capitol's Roxette was the solo triple platinum (300,000 units) for Joyride.

Certifying for double platinum were Rod Stewart (Vagabond Heart), Lee Aaron (Bodyrock), Paula Abdul (Spellbound), Extreme (Extreme II Pomograffiti), Les B.B. (self-titled), Michael Bolton (Time, Love And Tenderness), and Black Box (Dreamland).

Stewart's Vagabond Heart was also certified as a solo platinum album, along with Crash Test Dummies (RPM - Aug. 3/91), Queensryche (Empire), Robin Hood - the Original Motion Picture Soundtrack, and Sun Jammin'.

Stewart scored gold as well for Vagabond Heart, with Pat Benatar (True Love), Aaron Neville (Warm Your Heart), Crowded House (Woodface), Barney Bentall And The Legendary Hearts (Lonely Avenue), Daniel Lanois (Acadie), Marie Carmen (Dans la peau), Alan Jackson (Don't Rock The Jukebox), and UB40 (Labour Of Love).

Hammer drops M.C. on new Capitol release

M.C. Hammer has joined the long list of one name rock stars, i.e. Sting, Slash, Bono, etc. and will now just be known as Hammer.

The Hammer's new album, Too Legit to Quit is due to be released Oct. 29th and extensive touring is planned for '92 to promote it.

Hammer will be a hard man to miss the next few months as there is a Saturday morning cartoon show called the Adventures of Hammer Man, an upcoming TV special on ABC, two of the Hammer's songs will be featured in the Adams Family movie, a Hammer doll will soon be in stores and he recently signed a promotion deal with Post cereal.

Eureka's Acosta/Russell continues busy schedule

John Acosta and James Russell have been on a pretty hectic pace lately. They recently completed a tour of Ontario that saw them in Peterborough, Pembroke, Kingston, Cobourg, Belleville and London.

Acosta/Russell have been on tour with various people. August 23rd found them at Lansdowne Park in Ottawa opening for Vanilla Ice. A couple of days later they were in Toronto with World On Edge and MCJ and Cool G. Just a few days later they made an appearance at the HMV store in the West Edmonton Mall. Later that evening they were the guests of honour at a wedding in Edmonton and sang Never Change My Mind for the couple. Then in was off to Winnipeg for a back to school meeting with fans at Music City in Kildonan Place.

COVER STORY - by Pablo Fairhall

West End Girls surface with second single

"Striking" is the word that comes to mind when first meeting Vancouver's West End Girls. On further scrutiny, one finds this young threesome to be energetic, talented and having the right attitude to excel in the dance genre. They are currently signed to A&M with their self-titled debut. Their first single, Not Like Kissing You, made it into the Top 20 of RPM's Hit Tracks and their second single, I Want You Back, is currently #22.

The West End Girls are Camille Henderson, Aimee MacKenzie and Sivana Petrozzi. 21-year old Henderson started taking ballet at age four and excelled in all styles of dance by her teens. She took fine arts at college and had been taking acting when she became a West End Girl. "My family's been involved in the performing arts, too, so it sort of fell into place," she says. Her father, Bill Henderson (Chilliwack), produced the vocals for their debut.

18-year old Petrozzi is originally from South America and also comes from a musical family. She formed her first band at age fourteen and played in clubs and pubs, "anywhere we could get gigs," she recalls.

MacKenzie the youngest of the trio at 16, was born in New Jersey. She started out as a dancer, learning tap and jazz and she says, "I didn't really plan on being a singer, I thought I'd be a dancer." After being spotted singing with some friends, "just for fun", she was asked to audition for the group. She describes being in the group as, "a dream come true." Interestingly, she is the only member of the group still in school. Not naive about the ups and downs of the music business, she is adamant on finishing school.

The concept of the band originated with John Dexter, who also produced their album. "We were a concept group," admits Petrozzi.

"They wanted a three girl group that fit the sound and image they were looking for. From there on it developed into something they weren't expecting, which is; we have really strong personalities that come out in our music."

For this album, Dexter had already written the songs and had the concept of the album down on paper. But plans are in the works for the next album, and the girls are open to pen some of their own material.

Having recently sung the National Anthem in front of a crowd of 50,000 at a B.C.

Tune's Grand Hotel booked into O'Keefe

A road production of Tommy Tune's Broadway hit musical, Grand Hotel, will play Toronto's O'Keefe Centre for eight performances (Oct. 29 to Nov. 3). The musical won five 1990 Tony Awards, including Direction and Choreography by Tune.

Liliane Montevicchi, who earned a Tony nomination for her work in the Broadway production, takes a starring role in the road show.

CRTC endorsement for Broadcast Standards

The CRTC has expressed its full support for the Canadian Broadcast Standards Council (CBSC), and announced that complaints regarding issues covered by the industry codes which the CBSC administers will now be referred directly to the Council.

The announcement stems from an extensive consultation process which began in 1986, when the Canadian Association of Broadcasters (CAB) proposed the concept of an industry council to encourage excellence in broadcasting and to ensure compliance with industry standards. CAB represents the large majority of Canada's privately-owned radio and television stations, over 80% of which are also members of the CBSC.

CRTC Acting Chairman, David Colville said, "the Standards Council provides a valuable mechanism for the industry and the public to resolve concerns about a variety of programming and operational issues before they reach the point where the Commission would need to become involved. We have followed the development of the CBSC carefully and are encouraged by the support it has received from the industry. It is an important signal that broadcasters are committed to assuming more direct accountability to the public."

While the CRTC is satisfied with the complaints process established by the Council, it retains its full authority under the Broadcasting Act and is sensitive to public concerns about program quality on radio and television. Therefore, the Commission will require the Council to file reports on its activities and will undertake a review of the CBSC's success in three years.

Lions game, the Girls admit to being anxious to tour. "There's been a lot of opportunity," says Henderson, "but nothing quite right." Petrozzi adds, "It all depends on how much the public wants us." "I hope we get to travel a lot and I hope a lot of people get exposed to the music," concludes Henderson.

CHARTS

by Tim Evans

Adams ties record! Bryan Adams' (Everything I Do) I Do It For You holds the No. 1 position for the eighth week. That ties it with Joan Jett & The Blackhearts' I Love Rock N' Roll as the song holding the top spot the longest. I Do It For You even has a chance to remain on top for one more week, although Rod Stewart's The Motown Song appears ready to take over.

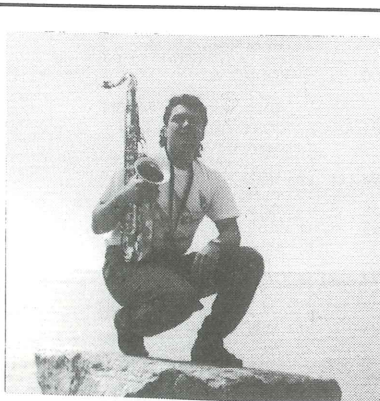

Has it been that long . . . ? Metallica's self-titled album climbs to No. 2 and will likely reach the top next week. If it reaches No. 1, it will be the first self-titled album from a male solo artist or male-fronted act to do so since Asia turned the trick way back in 1982. Since then, five female solo artists and one female trio have done it. Name the last six artists with a self-titled album to hit No. 1 on the Albums chart. Hint: They've all come within the last five and a half years.

The hot movers . . . In addition to having the No. 1 song for the past two months, Bryan Adams also has the hottest song this week. Can't Stop This Thing We Started jumps 65 places to No. 32. Songs from Tom Cochrane, Karyn White and Bad English also had moves of more than 25 spots.

New names on the chart. Of the seven new songs on the Hit Tracks chart, none are from an artist who had ever been on the chart before a year ago. Marky Mark & The Funky Bunch lead the way with Good Vibrations entering at No. 75.

A country resurgence! As Garth Brooks' No Fences album drop off the chart, two new country albums enter. Ricky Van Shelton's Backroads debuts at No. 91 while High Lonesome from Randy Travis bows at No. 96.

Did you get them all? The last six artists with a self-titled album reaching No. 1 are: Mariah Carey, Wilson Phillips, Alannah Myles, Tracy Chapman, Tiffany, and Whitney Houston.

COUNTRY

Darlana Moffatt has picked up some pretty heavy chart and playlist action on her Scars Of Life single (RDR Countrypak #4). Weird Harold, hard to please at the best of times, says, "At 'WX 1130, we only play hits and we're on this one.'" Paul Kennedy, Music Director at CHFX-FM Halifax, likes the record as well, calling the single "an impressive record that will help establish Darlana as a vocalist with a bright future."

Prairie Oyster has a hit out of the box with their latest single, Did You Fall In Love With Me, the first single taken from their new album Everybody Knows. The track is also included on BMG's The Greatest Music Herd - Volume Five. Two of the first country radio programmers

Michelle Wright and Garth Brooks

Canadian Johnny Douglas carving Nashville niche

Johnny Douglas, known during the mid-eighties as the rockabilly influenced Johnny Dee Fury, has become the talk of Nashville's Music Row. Douglas had released two albums on the RCA label, the second, Born To Bop, a self-produced album, made good chart gains on the strength of Knock Knock, taken as a single.

Andrea Newell and 820 CHAM's Mark LaPointe flank Randy Travis backstage at his CNE Stadium show in Toronto.

Rick Warner's huge guitar, complete with built-in radio, won him the Show Us Your CHAM contest and the grand prize of a VCR.

(Doug Thompson, Alan Lysaght and Bob Mackowycz).

Michelle Wright makes chart news once again. This time with Not Enough Love To Go 'Round, taken from her self-titled album. The two-part Cancon (AP) track is included on BMG's The Greatest Music Herd - Volume Five. One of the first to air the track was Danny White of New Country CHAT Medicine Hat. Wright appeared recently with Garth Brooks at a concert in Charlotte, North Carolina where they performed in front of a crowd of more than 20,000 country fans.

The new Lee Greenwood album, When You're In Love, has been shipped to radio. Greenwood is currently charting with Between A Rock And A Heartache, a Cancon (ML) entry. The song was written by three B.C. songwriters, Ron Irving, Larry Wayne Clark and David Simmonds. The album was produced by Jerry Crutchfield, who was scheduled to attend the CCMA's Country Music Awards show in Hamilton this past week.

Gerry King makes an impressive entry with his Boots & Jeans album, released on the Saddestone label. King has just come down off the charts with the title track from the album. Larry Wayne Clark, who, with Ron Irving and David Simmonds, wrote Lee Greenwood's current Douglas was busy promoting his album, touring as both a headliner and opening for some of the big names of that day including the Stray Cats, Georgia Satellites, Carl Perkins and The Blasters. He decided to take a short hiatus and concentrate on writing and producing. After making several trips to Nashville, he decided to move there permanently.

Nashville boasts a large and very successful Canadian community, and it wasn't long before Douglas met up with Gilles Godard, perhaps one of Canada's most successful out-of-country producers. Douglas is now maintaining a hectic schedule of writing, producing and playing guitar and keyboards on sessions, and working closely with Godard. He is a staff writer for both EMI and Sony/Tree publishing companies.

Kelita's latest chart single, Merry-Go-Round, released on Godard's Bookshop label, was co-written by Douglas with Kelita. The song was recently covered by Trilogy artist Kimberley Richards. The new album by Eddie Eastman, to be released on Bookshop, contains two Douglas songs, one, the title track. Both tracks are scheduled to be singles.

As well, Lori Yates, has just completed recording three songs which she and Douglas co-wrote, and Scott Dibble's Watertown band recently recorded a track that both he and Douglas wrote for their upcoming WEA album.

Godard is also producing three Douglas compositions for country singer Diane Ticknor's debut album.

Douglas is also developing a gospel project as writer/producer. He is also working in the studio with Joy White, a new signing to the Columbia label. They are working together on song material for her debut album to be produced by Paul Worley, who produced sessions for Pam Tillis, Kevin Welch and Wild Rose.

charter, Between A Rock And A Heartache, was also a major player in the writing of material for this album. He wrote One More Memory For The Road with Bill Pachel, The Vow You Were Saving For Me with John Higgins, and solo wrote The Cowboy Thing To Do. King's new single and video is titled Heartwreck, written by Paul Hotchkiss, Michael Terry and Saddlestone's top honcho Candice James.

Red Deer's Lou Paul is currently promoting his new Music Connection CD, Running South On A North Bound Train. Mike Francis produced three of the tracks, (I Think) I Must Be Going Out Of Her Mind, The Love In My Lady's Eyes, and She's Getting Me Over You. These tracks were recorded at Inception Sound with Chad Irschick engineering and doing the mix. The other tracks were produced by Dennis Charney, Gerry Dere and Wayne Saunders and recorded at Gerry Dere's Master Factor, where Dere engineered and mixed the tracks. A couple notable tracks on the album are Dick Damron's penning of Raining In The Country and Billy Simard's I'm Getting Suspicious. Paul, who was a 1985 finalist in the Canadian Country Music National Finals in Edmonton and Canadian Country Music Week '90, also in Edmonton, has been getting excellent feedback on the album. He has appeared across Canada and in the US, and has performed with Dick Damron in Nashville, Las Vegas and Mazatlan, Mexico.

Kimberley Richards and David Hutchins, Trilogy recording artists, who recently returned from a European tour, have two new singles shipped to radio this week. Clouds In My Heart is the title of the Richards single, taken from her debut album Something Special. The title track, which was her first single, made an impressive impact across Canada and in Europe. This Old Room is Hutchins' new release, his fourth single from his debut album, On My Own. On the strength of his previous releases, Hutchins was nominated for a Juno as Country Male Vocalist, and for a Big Country Award as Outstanding New Artist. During Canadian Country Music Week '91 in Hamilton, both Richards and Hutchins were scheduled to appear at several locations with J.K. Gulley and Terry Hill. Steve Thomson, President Trilogy Records International and Backstage Productions, reports that the European tour by Richards, Hutchins, and J.K. Gulley, and which was headed up by Ronnie Hawkins, was very successful. All of the artists are now receiving widespread airplay throughout Europe. Thomson is now putting together Trilogy Of Stars Volume III, expected to be released over the next few weeks.

Razzy Bailey's Saddlestone single, Fragile, was the No. 1 independent record across the US. The single topped the Indie Tracker of Aug. 16/91. Also getting the Indie nod is Straight, Clean & Simple. Their single, Put The Blame On Me, also released on Saddlestone, jumped from No. 27 to No. 17 the same week as Bailey's chart-topping success.

Laurie Thain's new single, (You're Making) Hits Out Of My Heartaches, a Thain original, is included on RDR's Countrypak No. 5. The track is also included on Thain's forthcoming 3rd album on the Pure-Pacific Music label. Thain, who lives in Mission, B.C., has been getting some impressive playlist action on the new track.

Weird Harold's latest WX1130 Real Country Countdown 30 gives prominence to six Cancon tracks. Mark Koenig tops the list at No. 18 for Pretty Eyes, followed by Joan Kennedy's I Never Met A Liar (I Didn't Like) at No. 20, Kelita's Merry-Go-Round at No. 21, I Got A Travelin' Heart by Anita Perras at No. 23, Barry Brown's The Whole World's Falling In Love With You at No. 24, and Ian Tyson's Black Nights at No. 27.

The benefit for the Wesley Centre Food Bank, which is taking place at Hamilton's Grant Avenue Studios on Friday the 13th, (RPM - Sept. 14/91)

Montreal's CFCF opts for contemporary country

Montreal's CFCF AM, Canada's first radio station, has changed its call letters to CIQC and effectively brought country back to the city. The contemporary country music format was introduced to Montrealers on Sept. 9 when Country 600 - CIQC-AM went to air.

The station's Program Director, Andre Chevalier, explained that the decision to bring a country music format back to Montreal was made "in response to the tremendous success it is enjoying across Canada and throughout North America," continuing with, "This success is, in part, a result of the high quality production the country music industry has experienced over the past ten years." He concludes with, "Montrealers can now turn to Country 600 - CIQC for the best in contemporary country music."

Country music has made impressive gains in Canadian radio over the past few years. Country radio is the ratings leader in three major cities in Canada; Calgary, Halifax and Hamilton.

Mount Royal Broadcasting purchased CFCF-AM and sister station CFQR-FM from CFCF Inc. in 1988. CFCF Inc. also owns and operates CFCF Television in Montreal. With the AM radio operation no longer part of CFCF Inc. the change in call letters was necessary to avoid confusion in the marketplace.

will have the added assist from several other country names. Also scheduled to take part are Kelita, Patricia Conroy, Garry Fjellgaard, Loma Lyns, Barry Brown, Wayne St. John, Russell deCarle, with Mike Holder on steel, Carl Horton on keys and John Diamont on bass. Carroll Baker and George Fox had hoped to be part of this benefit but they will be busy rehearsing for the CCMA Country Music Awards.

Garth Brooks, heading for the top of the charts with his latest Capitol single Rodeo, is getting a major promotion push on his new Ropin' The Wind album. Critics have already tagged this new one as another "crossover" album, to follow the country/pop success of No Fences, which is now over two-times platinum in Canada. Brooks topped the RPM Country 100 with The Thunder Rolls, the last single taken from No Fences, on June 20/91, after only six weeks of charting. It's obvious from the immediate adds that Rodeo is getting that Brooks could better Thunder's capturing of the top spot on the charts. Capitol is running a ten-market promotion on the new album release, which includes giveaways of Limited Edition two-song cassettes, CD catalogues, home videos, tour T-shirts and concert tickets. The big prize is a pair of tickets to see Brooks in concert anywhere in North America.
